

NATIONAL CHAMBER TO VOTE ON LABOR

Proposed Proposals Are Submitted to Test Sentiment on Right to Organize and Wages.

REDUCE ALL COSTS FIRST

One Proposition Is to Cut Expenses in All Directions Before Affecting Labor.

WASHINGTON April 15.—A statement of principles of industrial relations, proposed to furnish a basis on which American industry can build a national labor program, was submitted today to a referendum vote of the membership of the chamber of commerce of the United States. The principles, summarizing those prepared by a committee of the chamber, when investigated, show:

The principles, which will be voted separately, include the following: "The right of workers to organize is as clearly recognized as that of another element or part of the community."

"Mutual harmony and prosperity would be most effectively promoted by adequate representation of the parties in interest."

"Wages should be adjusted with a regard to the purchasing power of the wage and the individual's means to an opportunity to earn more than fair wages to reasonable hours of work and working conditions in a decent home and to the enjoyment of proper social conditions."

"Living of a basic day as a device for increasing compensation is a practice that should be condemned."

"Efficient production in conjunction with good wages is essential to successful industry."

"Consideration of reductions in wages should be reached until the possibility of reduction of costs in all other directions had been exhausted."

ATTORNEY DEMANDS THIRD OF LARGE KEITH ESTATE

BOSTON, April 15.—Allegation that A. Paul Keith and Edward F. Allen, agreed in December, 1918, to give John P. Graham, a lawyer one-third of the $1,000,000 of H. F. Keith, the venerable theater proprietor, if he should succeed in preventing Mr. Keith from disinheritating his son, Paul, are made in his equity suit filed by Mr. Graham, in the superior court today.

Mr. Albee personally and Mr. A. J. Lee, Walter P. Connealy and John C. Gormley, as executors of the will of A. Paul Keith, are made defendants in the suit which seeks to have the court order enforcement of the so-called agreement.

Mr. Graham, who sued for H. F. Keith from 1898 to 1905, by his complaint he alleges that in 1918, "as well as before and after that date," H. F. Keith was giving to various women "property of considerable value" and "permitting them to interfere with and to some extent misappropriate some portions of his business."

He says that Paul remonstrated with his father and as a result Paul was discharged from his father's employment. The complainant says that though Mr. Graham, Paul's son, was not disinherited but received his father's estate valued at approximately $1,000,000, Mr. Graham asked for the specific performance of the alleged oral agreement.

CHARGE OF GRAFT TURNED ON SENATOR

They are both poor men, unknown to me. I knew nothing about that.

Mr. Whitman then said Thompson had suggested that probably it might be amended so that perhaps he could get his face and had secured a copy of the measure and Mr. Whitman had sent him one from his office files.

Talks About Insuring "

Reverting to another part of the conversation, Mr. Whitman's testimony continued:

"I said to him, 'I understand you are insuring.' He laughed and said, 'I don't know how long it will be before those fellows may stand and they may not.'

"There were other things said which I don't recall," the former governor continued. "There was not a word said about any $300,000 offer."

"Was there anything said about his candidacy for governor?" the former executive was asked.

"He did say something about his being ambitious, probably he did say that he thought the next candidate should come up from New York state. I don't recall that he said he was a candidate for governor, but it is quite possible he did. I never suggested such a thing; I never thought of such a thing either then, before or since."

After the assassination of Count Tisza Dr. Wekerle was again appointed premier and remained in office until October, 1918. He was arrested at Budapest February 26 last, being charged with participation

THE PRICE THEY PAID FOR VICTORY

Lest We Forget Our Promise—

When we are tempted to think that the "war is over and we do not need to buy Victory Bonds" let us call to mind the names of our boys who went to war in defense of our honor and our homes—Let us remember our promise when we sent them—Let us remember the day we stood by and cheered them on to battle—Let us always remember that we promised we would back them up TO THE END—They accepted our word—they did not hesitate or hide behind excuses—they did not evade their share of duty—They accepted duty as it came, and in the end these men made the supreme sacrifice.

In Flanders Fields

In Flanders Fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place, and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly,
Scarce heard amidst the guns below.
We are the dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders Fields.

Take up your quarrel with the foe!
To you, from falling hands, we throw
The torch. Be yours to hold it high!
If ye break faith with us who die,
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders Fields.
